

Alec and Julia host a relationship advice podcast, with the unique perspective of being polyamorous. That's it though. They don't go to poly meetings or anything like that. They just go on dates with other people. Please don't expect too much.

-Julia and Alec will introduce the show, give some background about themselves

-Julia and Alec will go on a really dumb, brief rant

-Then they will take the calls:

HOW DO YOU DO IT CALLS

- Hi Alec and Julia, I'm a 22 year old female and I just would like to know, how do you do it? Doesn't knowing your partner is having feelings and sex with someone else make you jealous? Thanks!

-Hi, I've got a question for you two. I just can't seem to wrap my head around how you don't get jealous? Any insight would be amazing, since I'm kind of at a loss when it comes to understanding and accepting your relationship.

-Hi, 28 year old cis-gendered male here. I have a scenario for you guys here and tell me how this wouldn't make you jealous: Imagine your partner is making passionate love to some one else, getting naked, getting pounded, and pounding, and stroking, and petting, and licking, and just enjoying someone else's body, and being enjoyed...oh wow, I've just gotten myself very aroused, I need to go.

CHEATING CALL

-Hey, Alec and Julia, I'm a straight woman in a committed monogamous relationship for the past year. Recently at work, a new guy has been hired and I've sensed a lot of sexual tension from him. One day, he came up to me and said, "I'd like to make you cum. As in, I'd like to have sex with you and jerk you off until you orgasm" and maybe he was just making a friendly joke, but there was something about the way he said it that made it seem like something more. I'm thinking about cheating on my boyfriend and since you guys cheat on each other all the time, I figured I would ask - is it okay to cheat on my boyfriend?

CHEATING CALL

-Hey, 31 year old straight man here, in a monogamous relationship. So I know you usually tell callers not to cheat on their partners, but hear me out. I'm going to Las Vegas for a wedding, and you know what they say about Vegas.

The thing is, my girlfriend will be there. So first, is it okay if I cheat? And if so, how do I do it without being caught?

POLY CALL

-Hi, I'm a 27 year old bisexual male, and I'm calling because of you two actually. I am a big fan of your videos and the podcast, and about a few months ago when you released your web series, I realized that I was in love with you. So I'm currently looking for advice on what to do here, since I really want to date you both, but I'm just not sure how to go about doing that. Thanks!

CHATING CALL

-Hey, Julia and Alec, I'm a straightish woman. I've been in a monogamous relationship with my boyfriend for the past 5 years. There's this really hot girl that lives in our apartment building. It's not cheating if it's with another girl right? Let me know. I really want to cheat but I don't want to feel bad about it.

POLY CALL

-Hi Alec and Julia. Long time listener, first time caller. So I actually had a question about polyamory. Don't you think that your relationship isn't real since you cheat on each other all the time? In that case, why don't you just break up? And follow up question, since you're single now, can I take either one of you on a date?

SATIRE MONO CALL

-My dad consistently cheated on my mom and the way they dealt with that is by not talking about it. They have been married for 52 years now, so they must be happy. My question is, can I do that too? I don't want to have to label myself as "poly", "open", or "monogomish", as that could mean that I'd have to practice communication techniques in order to maintain honesty, integrity, and true understanding throughout my relationships. Where can I find a spouse who will ignore my cheating ways and brush it under the rug?

RANDOM CALLS

-Hey there, I'm a huge fan of the show. But don't you know that you're going to burn in hell for your heathen ways? Thanks for the new T-shirts at your online store by the way, I love them!

-Hey Alec and Julia, I'm a 36 year old female, I grew up in Lake Mills, Wisconsin, I moved to New York for school and now I live in Colorado. My favorite color is lime green, and my Mom's ethnicity could be described as "white", although she is half German, half French. My alarm clock on my phone is set to 7:20am, although I do think I should probably get up 5 minutes earlier due to me starting to pack blueberries in my lunch, which adds a few extra minutes to my morning routine. I've been dating since I was 17 years old, and I identify as sexual. My most recent dentist appointment was two weeks ago and I had to get a filling....(cut the call off with Alec and Julia talking)
